Guidelines

Welcome to catbiites' minigame, Name that Cat!
Most minigames of this sort only have you choose a lucky apprentice's suffix. Ivymask decided to bring his Clan something different; here, there will also be competitions to choose names for Tribe cats and the prefixes of Warriors! There will be no prizes other than gaining points, being in the top 5 of the leaderboards and the satisfaction of winning. Let's go over the simple rules!

ONE
If somebody else has already suggested a name, your suggestion will not count and will be disqualified unless you come up with another one that has not already been said.

TWO
Be nice! This is just fun and games. Don't worry, you'll have a chance to win again on the next chapter!

THREE
The name must make sense! Nothing like Bloodmoon or Starwing will be accepted.

FOUR
Have fun!

Round 1 - Sablepaw

S A B L E P A W

Sablepaw is a scrawny, long-limbed tom with, sharp and angular characteristics— especial in his facial structure. He has large ears with several nicks in them, and almond-shaped pale amber eyes. His pelt is short and sleek, and is of a solid black colouration. He is silent and reserved, preferring to keep to himself unless he feels as if his input would be of some utility to his Clanmates. Sablepaw is a very intelligent and intuitive individual who has a knack for coming up with new and creative combat tactics. Among his peers the young tom is renowned for how swift and light-pawed he is in battle.
